Mori rips Miller action

580 'retake' bid draws blast

By PAT WIDDER

An attempt by Livermore Councilman Don Miller to persuade the state to again review its approval of the widening of Interstate 580 through the Dublin Canyon has produced a swift and angry response from Pleasanton Mayor Floyd Mori.

Mori, in a letter to Donald Burns, secretary of the State Business and Transportation AGency, called Miller's claim that the review process for the widening was rushed through "simply preposterous".

Miller, in a letter to Thomas Quinn in the State Attorney General's office, contended, "This massive widening is an obvious growth inducing project..." and urged Quinn, "through your contacts with Governor (Edmund G.) Brown" to "encourage the administration to suspend the bidding process (now in the mill) and suspend contracts for construction until an honest and serious look is taken at the disastrous environmental consequences of the widening."

Miller also claimed "the whole approval process" was "greased" so that approval would take place before the Environmental Protection Agency's indirect source regulations went into effect and before "Governor's Brown's administration could take hold and ask questions."

In his letter to Burns, Mori said he felt compelled to reply to Miller's letter "since it contains several errors, innuendos, and gross misstatements of fact."

Mori pointed out that the widening project "has been delayed over two years due to the many reviews and approvals required by numerous agencies" and added "literally every public agency which has transportation as a responsibility has approved this project. The single and only exception is the City of Livermore."

(Livermore in general and Miller in particular has consistently opposed the widening to eight lanes, maintaining that widening that 10-mile stretch of the freeway to six lanes would be more than sufficient.)

Mori listed the agencies which have reviewed and approved the project and added the widening has not been "rushed through" but rather has "undergone considerable scrutiny."

Mori also noted, according to figures provided by CALTRANS, the widening would result in 4,600 fewer accidents and 90 fewer fatalities over a 20-year period, and said, "Surveys have indicated that approximately 70 to 80 percent of our valley residents have endorsed this project."

Mori also disputed Miller's claim the widening would be "growth inducing". He said, " . . . accessibility already exists to the valley and excePt for this small, dangerous, unfinished portion of the freeway system, the valley is in fact very accessible to the Metropolitan Bay Area."

Mori claimed that "tools are currently available to local government and are in effect in our valley to control population levels" and those levels should not be "arbitrarily and capriciously controlled through the deliberate undersizing of public works facilities. Transportation facilities," he added, "should not be used as a substitute for the planning process."

Women's lib hits the road

PLEASANTON — The women's liberation movement is apparently having an effect on the roads as well as at home and at work.

According to 1974 accident figures for the City of Pleasanton supplied by the National Safety Council, the number of males involved in accidents last year (68) decreased slightly compared to 1973 statistics while the number of females involved in accidents C117) increased by nearly 20 percent.

Overall, the number of accidents that occurred in Pleasanton last year (355) was two percent less than the number in 1973. Injury accidents, however, increased by 20 percent, although the majority of the 118 persons involved in those accidents were not severely injured. There was not a single accident fatality in the city last year.

The number of accidents which involved property damage (262; was six percent lower than the comparable figure in 1973. There were a total of 25 accidents involving bicyclists, compared to 15 for the previous year.

The 25 to 34-year-old age group was responsible for or involved in more accidents than any other age group. A total of 116 people between those ages was involved in accidents. The next most populous group, with regard to accidents, was the 35 to 44-year-olds (74) followed closely by the 20 to 24-year-old age group (73).

Of those accidents were contributing circumstances were indicated (110), more than half (57) involved drivers who had been drinking. The next most common reason was "improper driving" (31) and the third and fourth most common causes were "failed to yield right-of-way" (8) and "speed too fast (7).

The intersection of Stanley Boulevard and Santa Rita Road (where, incidentally, the city's newest traffic signals are located) produced the greatest number of accidents (8). Neal and First streets was second with 7 and three intersections — Abbie and First streets, Black Avenue and Santa Rita Road, and Las Positas Boulevard and Santa Rita Road — were tied for third with 6 each.

The greatest number of accidents (60) occurred on Saturdays while Thursdays produced the least number (42). Most accidents occurred during the day between 4 and 5 p.m. (66), 22 happened at 10 a.m., 21 between 2 and 3 p.m. and 20 at 1 p.m. and 20 at 6 p.m. Not surprisingly, the least number of accidents (3) occurred between 4 and 5 a.m.

580 stand reaffirmed before Dublin chamber

DUBLIN — Offsetting Valley Community Services District Director Lila Euler's November address to the Dublin Chamber of Commerce, Pleasanton City Councilman William Herlihy pushed for the proposed widening of I-580 to eight-lanes and thanked the Chamber chastised VCSD for using sewer capacity as a zoning tool.

Herlihy doesn't mind that the controversial widening may prove "growth inducing." On the contrary, he finds a "moderate, controlled growth rate" necessary to the qualitative development of the Valley.

Furthermore, he argued at Wednesday's luncheon presentation at the San Ramon Country Club, good schools, roads, and parks in the community are inducive to growth, but no one would argue that the quality of schools be reduced to control growth.

"I support the National Urban Ridgelands Park," he said, and that "surely will attract people to the valley."

The Environmental Protection Agency's limit of 8 parts per million of air pollution elements "cannot be met" in the Valley, according to Herlihy, and local agencies must meet with EPA to "set new goals."

"I think the EPA might deny the widening of I-580," said Herlihy, adding that they may also deny increased sewer connections.

Pleasanton won its suit against VCSD's limited expansion of sewer treatment facilities in a December Superior Court decision.

"We didn't eagerly sue VCSD," Herlihy continued. "Valley agencies must work together to solve our mutual problems, and VCSD's denial was not in the best interest of the community."

"Sewer capacity cannot be used as a zoning tool," he said.

Commenting on Livermore City Councilman Don Miller's recent letter to Thomas Quinn, assistant to Governor Brown on environmental affairs, in which Miller asked the Governor's office to suspend the awarding of contracts in the widening of I-580, Herlihy found it, "not illegal," that Miller used Council stationery, but "not really moral" in that Miller failed to send copies of the letter to his fellow councilmembers.

Commenting on the widespread impression that Herlihy's fellow employes at Lawrence Livermore Laboratory are against widening and the growth of the Valley, Herlihy believes, on the contrary, that the majority of employes agree with him, but that the, " minority is vocal."

ECE expansion curtailed

The Valley's state - funded Early Chpldhood Education programs, to the tune of about $200,000, are going on as usual but they won't be expanded next year as planned unless there's a statewide push to return ECE expansion money to the budget. Here, Bill Lovato assists a first grader at Livermore's Portola School in learning motor development. Meanwhile, Gov. Edmund G. Brown's proposed 1975-76 budget includes $43 million for ECE—just a shade over the $40 million available in the current fiscal year—while state Superintendent of Schools Wilson Riles is asking for $70 million to enlarge the three-year-old program of improving primary education statewide. Local ECE committees are mounting an effort to pressure state legislators to return ECE funding to the budget.

Pool hall safe lifted by burglars

A 250-lb. safe was carted off early Monday morning from the Pastime Pool Hall, 511 Main St., Pleasanton, by burglars who ransacked vending machines after slipping through a rear window.

This is the third break-in in the past four months, according to police.

The board will determine the route of BART through the Valley, according to Allen. The report is due March 9.

$15,000 Bicentennial 'priority list' to city council Monday

PLEASANTON — A "first priority" list of projects representing $15,000 in total outlay will be submitted to the city council on Monday by the Pleasanton Bicentennial Committee. The list represents a steering panel's recommendation from a total of some 20 programs and construction efforts that citizen committees working under PBC have compiled over the past two months.

Ken Mercer, who was named by Mayor Floyd Mori to head up the community's bicentennial effort, noted that "the first priority list of items is merely a procedure we are required to go through by the California Bicentennial Commission. It does not lock us in on those projects, or prevent us from adding other, perhaps more important items in the future." The total community effort looks to pageants, art festivals, new construction of community facilities and completion of existing facilities all during the next 18 months. Much of the financing for that undertaking would come from the private sector, although Mercer expects to learn on Monday the extent of City involvement in that bicentennial effort.

Included in the priority list to be submitted on Monday, and the amount estimated to be spent by the PBC, are: Purchasing a Bettsy Rose Ross Flag for every school in the community, $300; Plaques to mark historical sites throughout the Pleasanton Township, $2000;

Development of a community band stand within the Amador Community Park, $10,000; Working with the city to complete Century House to full public use, $2500; Essay and Poster Contest to involve the community's young people in the bicentennial theme, $500.

An additional $5000 will be sought by the PBC as "seed money" to allow the finance sub committee to purchase materials that will be soid back to the public as fund raisers within the total bicentennial effort, Mercer explained.

Other major undertakings being considered by the PBC would include development of biking and equestrian trails throughout the community; converting the police training building on Kottinger Avenue into a little theatre; aiding in the completion of the Amador Valley High School Auditorium to permit more active community use; publishing a booklet that would recall Pleasanton's heritage in word and picture; and aiding in the completion of the Cultural Arts Building which the city council has indicated will be built at city expense.

Mercer and members of his steering committee will appear before the city council's Monday evening session, 8 p.m. at the Justice Court on Angela Street.

15th Assembly candidate

Oliver states views

By CATHY MOSS

Aeas that surround cities and sap their services should help support the municipalities, says 15th Assembly District candidate Dick Oliver.

And public transportation ought to be convenient and sufficiently attractive to compete with the automobile - even if that change means subsidies, he says.

The 34-year-old Union City Democratic Councilman has this week walked valley precincts telling his constituents that cities should have a strong hand in determining their spheres of influence so the "pressure on the central cities is not too great."

"Areas surrounding the cities request all kinds of city services. They use municipal services but do not contribute to the property tax. It imposes a tremendous hardship that is not necessary."

Oliver says areas surrounding the cities should not necessarily be annexed to the city but that's the "most sensible way."

Farmland should not be taxed at its highest use but at its current use, Oliver said. The reform in taxing laws to provide for lower taxes for farmlands, even those abutting developed areas, could help protect the agricultural lands in the district, he says.

The district needs the kind of service that buses provide — "closer to the people, not a half mile away but a few blocks away. Transportation that could be both more frequent and closer should be provided to adequately compete with the cpr.

"From what I see, shuttle buses need improving. BART is comfortable, quiet, neat and modern. Buses aren't quite so much so. Bus transportation has to be made more personal. Interiors need to be brightened up and quieted down."

If the upgrading requires a subsidy, Oliver says he would support it. "We're already subsidizing the automobile. We provide roads, huge parking lots . . .We've been doing that for years. We have got to start putting public transportation on the same par as streets and cars."

Oliver, 34 and owner of two Union City gas stations, says bus service should be provided with fixed routes rather on the model of Union City where "within three blocks, 83 pe- cent of the people in town" are serviced.

Oliver also advocates a higher vehicle registration fee for "high gas consuming cars." Cars that consume less gas should be registered for less, he says.

"An assemblyman's office should be made available to aid people with problems with the government," he says. Representatives should be available some evening and weekend hours, he says.

As to tax structures, Oliver says he "gets very upset when I see a corporation making a good size profit and paying a small tax in comparison to others."

On welfare, Oliver says: "Reagan spoke of welfare fraud during his campaign. When he got there, he couldn't find as much as he thought there was."

Would he propose changes in the welfare system? "I'd like to see the units of service smaller with the programs closer to the community and more effective."

DICK OLIVER

But Oliver's conversation returns to land use when he discusses the district seat.

Land planning should start with the cities, he says, and local plans should conform with regional plans. That determination should be made by the Association of Bay Area Governments.

"Cities and counties need the power to enforce their own regulations. Some laws don't allow cities to defend their own ordinances except at tremendous expense."

Oliver, who was raised in San Leandro, says government should be able to go a long way to control use of our land. Land should be maintained at the use in effect when it was purchased, he says. "If he buys it as agricultural land it should be used as that.

"He should be able to request permission to change use," he adds.

Changes should be approved when a plan would improve an area, he says.

"When a man buys a piece of land, he's speculating. If he buys agricultural land he's made some decision and wants to put up an apartment complex. Maybe he's just made a poor investment."

Oliver says his political career began at the age of 12 when he worked at the headquarters for Adlai Stevenson.

Since then, he has been elected to the Union City Council (1972) when he launched into a series of seats on agencies including Associated Community Action Program, Alameda County Training and Employment Board, the Tri-City Transportation Board, the Alameda Creek - Coyote Hills Park Board, March of California Cities.

Oliver Tuesday night received the endorsement of the United Auto Workers Local 76 in San Leandro.

Primary vote setup

As a lifelong Republican (or Democrat), have you ever felt the urge to cross party lines on a primary but been turned off by the bother of re-registering?

Well, cheer up, Bunky. On Feb. 4, you will have the chance to vote as you please, regardless of your registration.

You may, of course, vote for only one of the 15 candidates seeking to fill the 15th Assembly District seat but that one candidate may be a member of either the Republican, Democratic or American Independent parties, regardless of how you are registered.

It is not necessary to re-register or to feel you are stuck with voting for someone you don't like only because the candidate you really admire is of another party.

Vote as you please in February. It's a free-for-all.

New PBX at VMH

Switchboard operator Mary Ann Davis is getting used to the modern new PBX board just installed at Valley Memorial Hospital to speed up and improve communications at the Valley's community hospital. Leased from Western Electric, the equipment replaces an older version and offers automatic ringing which is audible to the caller. Also newly installed is $12,500 worth of dictating equipment which will enable doctors' reports to be recorded and transcribed within minutes in an emergency and more efficiently even in non-emergencies.

Supervisors' night meetings

Experimental meets to start April 1

Alameda County Bureau

OAKLAND — April 1 will mark the first of three experimental night meetings approved by the Alameda County Board of Supervisors Tuesday morning.

The question of whether the board should alternate its regular day meetings with nightly sessions has cropped up repeatedly and, after reviewing a report on the practices of surrounding counties, the supervisors voted 4-1 to give it a try.

The night meetings will be held on the first Tuesday of April, May and June on an experimental basis. The sessions will begin at 7 p.m. and will be held in the Alameda County Administration Building in Oakland.

(According to the county charter, the board can only take action when sitting in Oakland.)

Supervisor Joseph Bort said he wasn't "enthusiastic" about the idea but was willing to give it a try. Just as some citizens can't attend day meetings, Bort said, there are other who are unable to attend night meetings.

Chairman Fred Cooper said he was opposed to putting only controversial issues that might draw large numbers of people on the experimental night agendas because "those items would get delayed" unnecessarily.

The board spent much of their discussion deciding if the once-a-month night meeting should be on Monday or Tuesday.

Supervisor John Murphy, the sole opponent to the motion, said he had "problems with Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. I think the costs are unrealistic," he added, "and I think you're going to have problems." Staff had estimated the night sessions would amount to an additional $150 each.

Murphy stressed he believed the night meetings on the fifth floor of the county administration building would create a security problem. "You're going to have people wandering all over," he added. "And I don't think in any way, shape of form, these costs are realistic."

"Cities have night meetings," pointed out Supervisor Charles Santana. And, he added, "I don't care if nobody comes. The people will have an option."

Murphy, indicating the empty board room, said he believed the "audience would be about the same as it is now."

Supervisor Joseph Bort suggested the three-month trial period begin in April and said he was fully aware the first Tuesday in April is April Fool's Day.

4,000 ballots mailed for three VMH board openings

Absentee ballots have been mailed to the 4,000 Valley residents who belong to the Valley Memorial Hospital Association for the annual election of three members of the board of directors.

The four candidates competing for three positions are Arthur J. Hudgins of Livermore; Ted Fairfield, incumbent, Pleasanton; Emily M. Schwarz and Tom Schweser, director at-large.

The nominating committee of the board of directors nominated Hudgins, Fairfield and Schweser and Mrs. Schwarz submitted a petition signed by 25 members of the association.

The directors retiring from the board are William Struthers of Livermore and Donald Tobin, director at-large.

Ballots must be returned to the hospital by Feb. 20. Polls close at 8 p.m. that evening when the annual meeting will be held in the hospital cafeteria.

Husgins, a candidate for a Livermore seat, is assistant to the director at Lawrence Livermore Lab. He is a former member and chairman of the Livermore City Library Board.

An incumbent, Fairfield is a civil engineer with MacKay

An incumbent, Fairfield is a civil engineer with MacKay and Somps in Santa in Santa Clara. A director of VMH since November, 1970, he has been a member of the Long Range Planning Committee and the Building Committee, presently serving as its chairman.

Mrs. Schwarz is currently a real estate consultant with Columbus Realty in Livermore and served for a year on the VMH administrative staff.

Schweser is secretary-treasurer of G.P. Banke Inc., general engineering contractors in Union City. The first candidate from the Dublin-San Ramon area, he is a former director and president of VCSD.

Directors serve a three-year term. Each year three positions among the nine members of the board are up for election.

Dolan-site school may be delayed even longer

The long-awaited and long-delayed Dolan site intermediate school planned for the Murray Elementary School District may be even further away from completion than the most pessimistic observers had estimated.

Board member Jay Henderson, deputy attorney general for the state, pointed out that any condemnation procedures to get the land would take at least four or five months in court.

Originally, negotiations with the Nielsens, who own the land, went along smoothly, but the landowners disagreed with the appraisal of the land and asked for another.

The district began condemnation procedures last year but has been stalled since a second appraisal has not come in. The appraiser, David DeBoe, was supposed to have reported by Jan. 1 but the appraisal is still not complete.

One reason for the delay was that the assessor's map was incorrect. It has been discovered another property owner has title to six-tenths of an acre on the 27 acre site.

Even if construction were to begin tomorrow, the architect estimates that it would take one year to complete the school. Henderson suggested that MESD immediately ask for a trial date in Alameda County since it will take four months or more to get to court. Even though he (and the district) hopes that the problems with the Nielsens can be resolved without formal condemnation procedures, Henderson feels that getting a trial date as soon as possible could save months.

Also, the district is seeking a grant from the government to install solar energy collectors for both heating and cooling the school but they have had no luck as yet.

The board heard a lengthy report on the curriculum at the first grade level and also received the raw scores on the first grade entry level tests given at the start of this year.

However, due to changes in the test, the raw scores provide no really significant information except that the range of raw scores has narrowed considerably.

Another report was presented by Les Schmidt, the Director of Curriculum for the district, on the Special Education Master Planning Application. MESD is joining several other southern Alameda County districts to form one unit with an average daily attendance of 128,000.

The unit is applying for $40,000 in planning funds from the state and eventually hopes to become part of the $24 million overall program. It is estimated that 10,000 of the students in the unit will become part of the program once it is implemented.

The program includes both physically and mentally handicapped students as well as gifted children.

The trustees received some bad news when it was revealed that average daily attendance in the district has come up some 2 per cent lower than anticipated, and that miscalculation will cost the financially-strapped district approximately $80,000.

District officials took an average over the last three years of the amount of drop in enrollment per year and applied it to last year's total. However, the number of elementary school age children plummeted even more and thus the district faces receiving $80,000 less than they had anticpated.

The district is pinning its future on a March 4 revenue limit increase election but if parent interest in a position paper is any indication, MESD could be in trouble.

The district is putting out a position paper, stating its goals and aims, and asked for community input. Only two people showed up a public meeting and then letters to presidents of local organizations produced no response at all.

So the district is publishing its position paper with no community input but the real scare is that the same kind of apathy will extend to the forthcoming election.

Six-figure Sphinx

Mike Zampa

It has taken this long for the Bay Area press to uncover one of the year's intriguing stories, Willie Wise's exodus from Salk Lake City to Pleasanton.

For the first time since Wise allegedly signed a contract with the Tri-Valley Warriors, the metropolitan media are showing interest in his dramatic flight.

The first signs of awareness came in a San Francisco Chronicle story Tuesday. It covered the history of Willie's walkout from the Utah Starrs pre-season camp, and his decision to play for the Warriors in the cold dreary Alameda County Fairgrounds.

Tonight, KPIX sportscaster Wayne Walker will film the Warriors' game with the Martinez Muirs, then resume the Wise inquiry.

Ticket prices are being reduced for the game at 8 p.m. says Warrior publicist Chuck Greer. If you want to see Wise, the Warriors, or maybe just Wayne Walker, it won't cost as much.

The Warriors are pleased that Wise is drawing press coverage. It was what they had hoped for when he first contacted coach John Phillips, saying he would no longer play for Utah of the ABA.

Surprisingly there had been little mention of the 6-6 Drake All-American, save for the press in the Pleasanton vicinity.

The Oakland Tribune carried his signing with Tri-Valley, but that turned out to be a charade. League officials say Wise hasn't signed any contract, because the WBA might be zapped by an ABA lawsuit.

Once Willie settled down to his ho-hum dominance of the WBA, he was ignored, by fans, and more surprisingly, sports reporters.

Wise is considered one of the most talented forwards ever. His owners in Utah equate Willie with the saintly "Doctor J," Julius Erving.

The sleekly built bearded superstar should be a tantalizing challenge for the press. He is a man who risks position and wealth for a secretive principle. Authors have built lofty folk heroes of such stuff.

Wise turned his back on Utah last Fall. He left in the second of a five-year contract calling for $100,000 annually. More probably if you count the spare change.

He demands to be traded by the Stars, and won't return until they comply.

The Stars refuse to deal away such a treasure. Their non-action leaves Willie stranded in the WBA. He refuses to return, and remains mute on his reasons for wanting out.

Now there's a story along the lines of King Edward VIII's abdication in 1937. The British monarch spurned a lifetime, no-cut, no option clause contract with the government to wed American divorcee Wallis Simpson.

The world melted at this story of a man and his principles.

Wise's case is all the more tempting because he hides his Wallis Simpson. No one knows why he stepped down off the throne. The Stars are still flabbergasted at his flight. Wise won't tell a soul.

There's a challenge to spark the investigative spirit in all of us.

Surely more drama will result from the Wise vs. Stars affair. Utah desperately wants Willie back to join with rookie forward Moses Malone. A pair of book-ends like that could turn the ABA upside down.

Wise may be tempted because his pittance with Tri-Valley is microscopic in contrast to the lucrative ABA contract. Even that will dry up should the WBA collapse after this season.

The Stars' resistance may wane because they are being wooed by ABA rivals. According to Tri-Valley coach Phillips, the New York Nets, Julius Erving's boss, want Wise desperately to form a devestating super-star combination. Other clubs have made offers as well. Utah may conclude a trade is the practical solution, providing some compensation for the time and money already spent on Wise.

While Willie putters around the WBA, he risks an injury that might diminish his value and preclude permanently his return to the big leagues. In the WBA the conditions are not top grade. Early in the season he sent shivers down a few spines by slipping on the Sacramento Auditorium floor, which is suitable for ice hockey.

With each contest, the risk grows. Wise is bored with WBA competition, the Chronicle said. That means he may play below peak efficiency, or subconciously "hold back." That's the prime instance when an athlete can be hammered severely.

Wise and his Utah employers must both fret over the dismal prospect. Maybe it will jar one of the antagonists from this state of suspended animation. Perhaps Willie will return to the ABA.

It's unthinkable that a $100,000 a year superstar should be consigned to a future of high school gyms, and midnight rides in station wagons at age 26.

Until the combatants realize that, the only benefactor of this controversy is Tri-Valley and the WBA. At least now that the press is jumping in with both feet.

Seifert to Livermore

David Seifert, recreation supervisor for Dublin, has appointed to a similar position in Livermore, the Livermore Area Recreation and Park District announced this week.

Seifert, a 1968 graduate of Chico State, replaces Mike Orr, who left LARPD for private business.

He will take charge of Livermore's adult leagues and youth programs, oversee programs at the city's two swim centers, May Nissen and Granada High, and serve as liaison with the Livermore Aquacowboys.

Seifert has been rec director in Dublin since 1972. Prior to that he was an instructor for four years at Cal State Hayward. Seifert coached the soccer team at Hayward, and has played for the semi-pro Tri-Valley Soccer Club.

Moller meatmen still undefeated

Moller Meats' lightning burst at the end of the game produced a 36-24 victory over the Crossings in Pleasanton Recreation Basketball this week.

The triumph ran Moller's record to 3-0, and dropped the Crossings to 1-2.

At one point late in the action, the meat packers led by a point, 24-23. Then they ran off a 12-1 streak to blow open the contest.

Moller's Carl Shelen was the leading scorer with 10 points, followed by teammate Jim McClurr with nine. Jack McCormick had nine points for The Crossings.

Graham Alexander scored just three points for the winners, but played a strong game on the boards.

Mike Thode, who with Bob Silva scored six points for the losers, also rebounded well.

The Pleasanton Jaycees won their first game of the year this week, topping First Baptist Church, 36-32.

Jim Davis cinched it with a clutch field goal in the final seconds of play. He finished with five points. Rick Everett dominated the game with 14 points and a slug of rebounds. Most of his scores came from inside. Teammate Ed Polson scored eight points for the winners.

The Baptists, behind Pete Iverson's 15 points, and eight by Dwain Clossup, erased a five-point halftime deficit to tie the score in the final minute. Davis' score sealed their defeat.

In the only other game, Harris Realty nearly frittered away a six-point halftime bulge, but held on for a 29-28 win over Jerry's Exxon.

Harris received remarkably balanced scoring, paced by five points from Vince Kouns and Terry O'Flynn. Rich Franklin, Gary Rubin and Rollie Jarmusch all had four.

Jerry's Rich Eggers paced all scorers with 13 points.

Warriors entertain Martinez

The Tri-Valley Warriors, leading the Western Basketball Association standings by one game after edging third place Sacramento 125-122 Sunday, host the last place Martinez Muirs tonight at 8 p.m. at the Alameda County Fairgrounds.

However, the Muirs are not to be taken lightly by any WBA club. The recent addition of former Milwaukee Buck guard Charles Lowery has seemingly turned Martinez around and now, just four games behind, the Muirs seem just as capable of overtaking Tri-Valley as any of the circuit's other four entries.

Lowery had 31 points Sunday as the Muirs sneaked past the defending league champion Stockton Golden Arches 147-146 in double overtime.

Charles' 20-foot jumper at the buzzer accounted for the winning points as the Puget Sound grad, who averaged 36.3 points per game with Santa Clara last season, tallied 25 of his points after the end of the third quarter.

Bob Presley, the moody center from Cal, also performed well over the weekend for the Muirs, scoring 34 Saturday as the tail-enders lost to Stockton 119-114.

The Warriors come into the contest warily. Smoldering hostilities between Tri-Valley players and referees have exploded of late, and low attendance and illnesses have added to mild player disenchantment.

Paul Loveday, just off a prolonged groin injury, missed Sunday's game with the flu and is once again doubtful tonight.

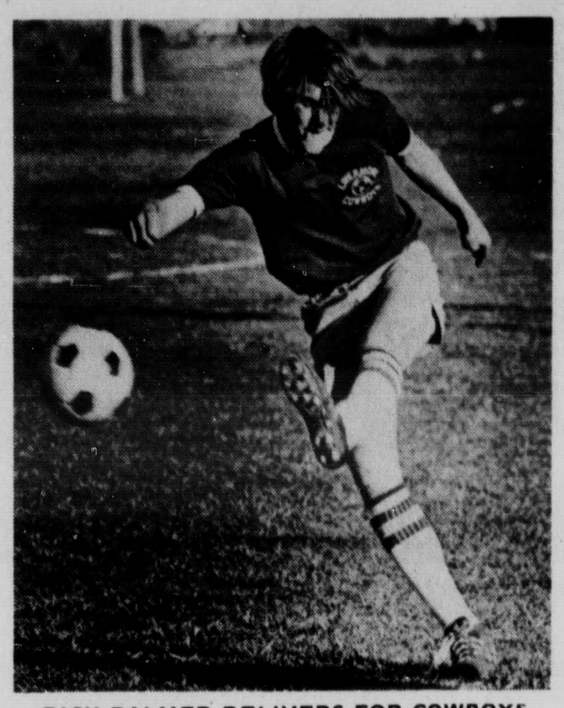
Willie Wise, also a recent flu victim, will probably play tonight but revealed Monday that he may soon quit the WBA.

"My talent is becoming tarnished. I don't have the competition," the veteran forward told a reporter.

Raiders coming for blind game

The Oakland Raiders will pit their strength against a team of blind youngsters March 23 as a Dublin man kicks off a four-state drive to promote athletics for the blind.

The display of a number of sightless sports will be held in conjunction with the annual Dublin Spring Festival.



RICH PALMER DELIVERS FOR COWBOYS
He and teammates face San Ramon today

Cowboys pick on Wolves today

Failing a full-fledged catastrophe, Livermore High can move to the brink of yet another EBAL soccer championship today in Danville.

The Cowboys face San Ramon at 3 p.m., and are infinite favorites to win their seventh match of the season against two ties.

A victory would nearly choke off Dublin's desperate chase for the league lead.

The Cowboys are on top by two points over the Gaels.

Even without injured Dan Payne, Livermore should have no trouble this afternoon. The Wolves are winless for the year.

Things could be closer at Granada, where the Matadors entertain Monte Vista. The game will be played at Max Baer Park.

The Mats lost to Livermore Tuesday, 1-0, on Ken Watts' penalty shot.

A win for Livermore today would vault the Cowboys four points ahead in the standings with one game to play. If Livermore lost its final match, and Dublin won its remaining two, the teams would tie for an EBAL title.

Livermore closes out its season at home against Amador Valley.

FELONY CRIMES

Out of every 1,000 felony arrests in California what per cent would you estimate finally go to prison? Fifty percent? NO. 30 percent? NO. Not even 10 percent. Only 2.2 percent or 22 out of every 1,000 ever go to prison. If that statistic doesn't shock you, nothing will.

"Crime does pay," and far too many are making it their profession, and the law abiding citizens are the ones who are paying in dollars and suffering.

Somewhere in all the Big Brotherism in Sacramento, the priorities have gotten lost and crime has been skyrocketing and people aren't safe on the streets, in their homes or in their businesses anymore.

Can crime be stopped? NO. Not as long as we have people on earth, but crime can be reduced dramatically.

What we need is legislation to enact; reforms of our judicial system, mandatory sentencing for certain crimes, repeal of the probation subsidy program, return of our prisons to humane institutions of incarceration, intensive methods to stop drug trafficking and public education programs on crime.

Crime is not an abstract problem to be debated as some sort of academic exercise, it's a daily threat to the lives and safety of our people, and the cost alone exceeds sixteen million tax dollars a year.

inside the arts

Winners in four categories were named this week in Livermore Camera Club's "Best of 1974" competition held at the Carnegie Building.

Barbara Mallon won the Salon (large black and white) Print of the Year award for her Death Valley scene titled, "Mesquite and Dunes." Stan Isakson won the Mini - Print of the Year Award for his photograph, "Two Pelicans." Nelly Frobose was the Color Print of the Year winner for "Visiting Grandma," and Ron Van Nord won for his Color Slide of the Year, "Fly Trap," a picture of a spider web.

All are from Livermore except Isakson who lives in Pleasanton.

Judging the entries Monday night was Barrie Bieler of Walnut Creek, a former judge of photographic competition in the Livermore Arts Festival.

To be eligible for competition this week, all entries had to be entered in one of the Camera Club's monthly contests during 1974.

This year's Salon Print winner, Barbara Mallon was the club's 1973 Mini-Print of the Year winner and only became a serious photographer after joining the club in 1971.

"Nearly everything I've learned I've learned from Camera Club competition and listening to the judges," said the mother of two.

Nelly Frobose is an example of overnight success. Taking an adult education photography course at Livermore High School, she entered the first color print she ever made in this week's contest, and won. Nelly has two small daughters.

Mike Heusinkveld, winner of numerous photo awards, won both second and third place in the Salon Print competition for photographs titled "Fish Nets" and "Camaraderie." Mallon won fourth with "Salt Flats Coyote Hills," and Capt. W. N. Mansfield was fifth place winner with "Who Said Dat?" All are Livermore residents.

Second prize in Mini Prints went to Jack Caldwell for "Stairs" Photographed in an elegant San Franciso apartment. Another Livermore man, Bob Henry, won second and third place in Mini Prints for "Boys and Birds" and "Hooked." And Isakson took fifth with "Web on a Swing."

In the colorprint category, Dick Paulson of Livermore was second with "Headless Swans," Doug Donovan of Dublin was third with "Portrait," Jack Caldwell of Livermore was fourth with "The Tower" followed by Livermore's Steve McCaski with "Technobug."

In Color Slides, Marion Fulk's "Warbler" was judged second. It won the Slide of the Year 1974 competition of the Northern California Conference of Camera Clubs recently. And her "Egg Shell and Cherry," was third, followed by Donovan's "St. Mary's Cathedral," and Elizabeth Manley's "White Kitten."

The Livermore Camera Club will have a display of prints, including these winners, in the children's section of the Livermore Library beginning Feb. 1.

The club meets the third Monday of the month at 7:30 p.m. in the lower level of the Carnegie Building. Members include amateurs and professionals from high school through septuagenarians who like to take pictures for fun. All residents of the valley are welcome. For information please call club president Barbara Mallon, 443-2080.

Judges named for spring art show

Judges have been announced for the Livermore Art Association's 18th annual Art Show, slated for the weekend of Feb. 7-9 at St. Bartholomew's Episcopal Church. They are Jane Burnham, Patricia Mervin and Terry St. John.

Ribbons will be awarded first through third place winners in two categories: General and Ecclesiastical. Special awards will be Best in Category and Most Popular. Both groups include Oil, Watercolor, Graphicsand Mixed Media, Textiles and Stitchery, Pottery-Jewelry and Sculpture.

Artists' works will be received on Jan. 30 from 4 to 9 p.m. and Jan. 31 from noon to 4 p.m. at The Barn, 3131 Pacific Ave. The fee is $2 per entry for members, $3 for non-members, with a limit of two entries per artist. Judging will be Feb. 1.

Jane Burnham is a popular artist and teacher equally proficient in oil, acrylics or watercolor. Her paintings attest to a broad spectrum of subject matter and varied methods of treating each.

Burnhams's paintings have hung in numerous galleries and shows where they have won top awards. These include the SWA Annual at the DeYoung Museum; Statewide Show, Santa Cruz and Santa Rosa; St. Jude Annual at the de Saisset Gallery; the San Juan Bautista Annual and others. He has an AB degree from UC, and MFA from California College of Arts and Crafts.

St. John's works have been exhibited at the San Francisco Museum of Art, the James D. Phelan Award Show at the California Palace of the Legion of Honor, the College of Notre Dame in Belmont and the Lueien Labaudt Gallery in San Francisco.

McNicoll, who formerly published the valley poetry' magazine "Open Arms," claims his poetry is more traditional and cynical.

Depew, founder of "Poetry Newsletter" in New York will use two slide projectors, a tape recorder and water in the presentation of his visual - like poetry.

Associated with Open Hand Studio in Berkeley, Rod Sullivan has published two books of poetry entitled "Wind Rivers," and "Hands into the Stone."

During the performance Jack McClure of Pleasanton will provide a light show.

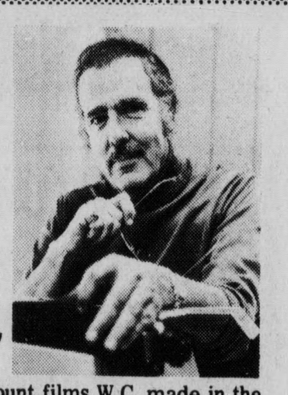
SETTING THE SCENE



Bill Hayden

I wonder how many of the films we now find unsatisfactory from a critical standpoint will end up on our 'classics' list in the dim and distant future.

This musing is the result of the nostalgia syndrome which has seized us by the short hair for the past few years.

Some of the films which have now reached 'classic' status through a mellowing time were not received with any great acclaim when first they saw the light of day and were put through a projector for critical analysis.

All those W.C. Fields epics, for example, which seem hysterically funny now scarcely drew a giggle several decades ago. I remember a theatre manager acquaintance who avoided, in every possible way, having to play "You Can't Cheat an Honest Man" when it was first released.

Those were the bad old days when a film company could insist on 'block - booking.' You had to buy a certain portion of the entire year's product, sight unseen, to get a couple of films you thought might have some box office appeal. Said management was stuck with "Honest Man." He either had to write off the flat rental charge he agreed to pay or play it at a time when the picture would do least damage to his regular clientele who just did not 'dig' Fields.

All the comedies Fields made at Universal, "You Can't Cheat an Honest Man," "The Bank Dick," "My Little Chickadee" and a couple of others, were relegated to 2nd feature status and were, for a long time on the re-issue circuits as Realart product. This type of distribution produced a minimum revenue for the films but did keep some theatre alive during very difficult times.

It was only after WW II that someone had a bright idea. They put "My Little Chickadee" and "Bank Dick" on one program and sold them as a 'class' package to the so - called art houses that were springing up all over the country. Business was sensational and the Fields cult grew. When TV hit its stride, all the old Paramount films W.C. made in the early 30s surfaced. Even his Sennett 2-reelers were ferreted out and "The Dentist," "The Barber Shop," "The Fatal Glass of Beer" and "The pharmacist" quickly became the ultimate in dark, sadistic comedy, a forte Fields had been reveling in for most of his professional life.

Even the honest film buff will admit that not all of W.C. Fields humor is THAT FUNNY. Much of it is repetitious and often you have to wade through a great deal of tedium to get to the gems. Most of the effort is worth one's time, however. That is probably what makes a 'classic' — being bored in anticipation of massive enjoyment.

Fields is not the only example of time - created classics. Many of the early Humphrey Bogart films are barely passable, by the most generous standards, yet we put up with them to get to "Maltese Falcon." We tolerate "They Drive By Night" to enjoy over and over again "African Queen, "Beat the Devil" and "Treasure of Sierra Madre."

Bogart and Fields had much in common. There was an 'acid' sense of humor behind everything they did. Bogart carried his corrosive quality into solid dramatic forms while Fields delved into the satirical ridiculous. Both charged, full - tilt, at the fads, the frauds and the pecadillos of our world. There's more than meets the eye to those leeches sucking at Bogey in "African Queen" and there are certainly Freudian aspects to the battles between Baby LeRoy and Fields.

There may have been erudite critics of the 30s and 40s who saw the wonders and depths of these masterful talents. Their peers, however, were not terribly kind to them and wouldn't have given you a tarnished dollar for every foot of film in which they ever appeared. Now they can't be praised enough.

Instead of looking back on the securities of the past, how about seeking out the potential classics and artists of tomorrow! What have you seen this year that might go down in history as something of quality? Will we ever be delving back into the dramatic growth of Charlton Heston? How about the epic work of Steve McQueen? What artistry might we find in the works of Burt Reynolds?

In spite of women's lib, this isn't an era of women in theatre or film. Where are the Ruth Chattertons, the Bette Davises, the Claudette Colberts, the Loretta Youngs? These famous personalities have not been replaced in our film firmament. Current feminine biggies are Mary Tyler Moore, Carol Burnett and Beatrice Arthur. At the moment I cannot conceive, years hence, of being deeply engrossed in reviewings of "Maude."

In a final analysis, it is more than personality that creates a permanent 'cult.' There has to be an inner fire to warm a viewer from another time. Many Bogey addicts never saw him when he was alive, and yet they can relate. The current Laurel and Hardy fans do not realize at one point in time their films were very difficult to 'sell.' "Sons of the Legion," the L&H fan clubs, are legion. Perhaps all this adoration would not have been seemly in the comics' own time. A little bit, however, might have made their lives easier and happier.

Have you any candidates for the future?

For Thursday, Jan. 23, 1975

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You'll have second thoughts about something you felt you hastily agreed to. However, it will work out ok.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) With any commercial transactions today, be careful the price isn't raised once the deal is set.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You'll have to be on guard so you won't unintentionally slight a friend by excluding her from an activity with another pal.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Don't embarrass yourself by seeking a favor of one whom you feel is likely to turn you down.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Your self-discipline will be well in hand for most of the day, but as the evening wears on you'll grow a little too lax.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Your present aims can be satisfied without resorting to methods that you wouldn't be proud to tell others of.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Someone will be giving you a good idea that you should apply in total. For some reason you'll dilute its potential.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) It's time to remind a certain party of an obligation long overdue. Be prepared to counter some flimsy excuses.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You're apt to misinterpret the motives of one who is very co-operative. It's not like you to be this suspicious without cause.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) It wouldn't be wise to gossip with co-workers about something the boss told you in confidence. Keep this matter secret.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You're reasonably safe in taking chances on things today that are well thought-out. Press beyond a calculated risk and the string will snap.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You will create problems if you expect more than you're entitled to from a venture. Share fairly.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

It didn't take South more than 10 seconds to chuck his contract out the window. He grabbed his ace of spades, led the three of trumps and rose with dummy's jack after West followed with the five spot. It did take him quite a while to play the rest of the hand, but since he had no way to avoid the loss of two trumps, a spade and a diamond, all that followed was wasted effort.

South blamed bad luck. In one respect it was bad luck. A 4-0 trump break occurs just about 10 per cent of the time.

South's bad play was that he failed to guard against the actual 4-0 break. Give East all four trumps and South would have been helpless.

South could have guarded against all four in the West hand by the simple expedient of leading his queen of trumps. East would have shown out and later on South would have been able to lead through West's 10-9-5 and pick up the suit.

South would still have had some slight problems, but there were any number of ways to avoid the loss of more than one diamond trick.

Sunol Glen vote panel

SUNOL — The Sunol Glen School District will be seeking volunteers interested in working on a committee to promote passage of a revenue increase measure this spring.

Superintendent — principal George Bury was directed by the school board to contact those interested. Persons wishing to serve on such a panel should contact Bury by Monday, February 10.

The Sunol Glen board Tuesday approved the revenue increase measure for the May 27 ballot. Current tax rate for the district is $2.07. The measure asks an increase of 43 cents for 1975-76.

In effect. the board accepted the report of the finance committee which was formed last October and chaired to date by Herman Koopman.

A simple majority will be required to pass the measure. There are an estimated 400 to 500 eligible voters in the Sunol area.

In other business Tuesday, the board indicated it would have two representatives present at tonight's Congress of Valley Agencies meeting.

Bury reported that the school will offer a Red Cross course to its staff, starting at 8 a.m. on Jan. 31.

Youth building progressing

PLEASANTON — A report to the Fair Association's Board of Directors last week indicated the Young California Building should be completed by the first week in March.

The structure will be the largest exhibit building at the Fairgrounds when completed. It is intended for youth activities, general exhibits and, possibly, indoor tennis.

Any permit required by this chapter may be issued to any person to do any work regulated by this chapter in a single family dwelling used exclusively for living purposes, including the usual accessory buildings and quarters in connection with such buildings in the event that the same are occupied by or designed to be occupied by said owner; provided that said owner shall perform, oversee or supervise all work in connection therewith.

c. Application for Permit. Every application for a permit shall be made on forms furnished by the Chief Building Inspector, or his duly appointed representative. Every application shall provide for the address, the use occupancy or purpose of the building, or premises where the proposed work is to be done, the owner's name, the electrical contractor's name and address, a complete description of the proposed work and such other additional information as the Chief Building Inspector, or his duly appointed representative, may consider necessary. If it appears, upon examination and investigation by the Chief Building Inspector, or his duly appointed representative, that the proposed work will conform to the provision of this chapter, a permit shall then be issued to the applicant, upon payment of the fees provided for.

d. Maintenance Electricians. In lieu of an individual permit for each installation or alteration, an annual permit may, upon application therefor, be issued to any person, firm, or corporation regularly employing one or more electricians for the installation and maintenance of electric wiring, devices, appliances, and equipment upon premises owned or occupied by the applicant for the permit. The application shall be made on forms furnished by the Chief Building Inspector, or his duly appointed representative. Within not more than fifteen (15) days following the end of each calendar month, the person, firm, or corporation to which an annual permit is issued shall transmit to the Chief Building Inspector, or his duly appointed representative, report of all the electrical work done under the annual permit during the preceding month. Each annual permit shall expire on December 31 of the year in which it is issued.

e. Validity of Permit. The issuance of granting of a permit or approval of plans and specifications shall not be construed to be a permit for, or an approval of, any violation of any of the provisions of this chapter. The issuance of a permit upon plans and specifications shall not prevent the Chief Building Inspector or his duly appointed representative from thereafter requiring the correction of error in said plans and specifications or preventing construction operation being carried on thereunder when in violation of this chapter or of any other ordinances of the City of Pleasanton.

f. Expiration of Permit. Whenever the work authorized by any permit required by this chapter is not commenced within ninety (90) days from the date of issuance of such permit, or whenever the work authorized by such permit is suspended and before the work authorized by such permit shall be recommenced or continued, a new permit shall be obtained as provided in this chapter for the original permit, and the same fee or fees shall be paid therefor as were required for the original permit.

91-4 FEES

a. Fees Established. Before any permit required by this chapter is issued, the applicant therefor shall pay to the City of Pleasanton the fees for each building or structure as set forth in a Resolution Establishing Fees For Various Municipal Services. Said table of fees may be amended, partially or entirely, by subsequent resolution of the City Council.

b. Penalty for Work Started Without Permit. Where work for which a permit is required is commenced prior to obtaining said permit, the fee specified shall be doubled. The payment of such double fee shall not relieve any persons from fully complying with the requirements of this chapter nor from any other penalties prescribed by ordinance.

c. Fee Exemptions. This chapter governs and controls the installation, alteration or repair of any electrical work in any building or structure owned or controlled by any public or quasi-public or political corporation or body. However, neither the State nor any county, city, district or political subdivision nor any public officer or body acting in an official capacity on behalf thereof shall pay or deposit any fee for the filing of any document or paper or for the performance of any official service.

91-5 INSPECTIONS AND CERTIFICATE. Upon completion of the work which has been authorized by issuance of any permit, except an annual permit, it shall be the duty of the person, firm or corporation installing the same to notify the Chief Building Inspector or his duly appointed representative, who shall inspect the installation within forty-eight (48) hours, exclusive of Saturdays, Sundays and Holidays, of the time such notice is given or as soon thereafter as practicable.

Where the Chief Building Inspector or his duly appointed representative finds the installation to be in conformity with the provisions of this chapter he shall authorize the use of the installation and connection to the electrical utility furnishing the electric service. If upon inspection the installation is not found to be fully in conformity with the provisions of this chapter, the Chief Building Inspector or his duly appointed representative shall at once notify the person, firm or corporation making the installation, stating the defects which have been found to exist.

LEGAL NOTICE

All defects shall be corrected within ten (10) days after inspection and notification, or within other reasonable time as permitted by the Chief Building Inspector or his duly appointed representative.

Preliminary approval may be issued authorizing the connection and use of certain specific portions of an incompleted installation; such certificate shall be revocable at the discretion of the Chief Building Inspector or his duly appointed representative.

When any part of a wiring installation is to be hidden from view by the permanent placement of parts of the building, the person, firm or corporation installing the wiring shall notify the Chief Building Inspector or his duly appointed representative and such parts of the wiring installation shall not be concealed until they have been inspected and approved by the Chief Building Inspector or his duly appointed representative, provided that on large installations where the concealment of parts of the wiring proceeds continuously, the person, firm or corporation installing the wiring shall give the Chief Building Inspector or his duly appointed representative due notice, and inspections shall be made periodically during the progress of the work. The Chief Building Inspector shall have the power to remove, or require the removal of any obstruction that prevents proper inspection of any electrical equipment.

At least once in each calendar month the Chief Building Inspector or his duly appointed representative shall visit all premises where work has been done under annual permits and shall inspect all electric wiring, devices, appliances and equipment installed under such a permit since the date of his last previous inspections, and shall issue a certificate of approval for such work as is found to be in conformity with the provisions of this chapter after the fee required has been paid.

91-6 CONNECTION TO INSTALLATION. Except where work is done under Maintenance Electricians' permit it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to make connection from a source of electrical energy or to supply electric service to any electric wiring, devices, appliances or equipment for the installation of which a permit is required, unless such person, firm or corporation shall have obtained a certificate of approval issued by the Chief Building Inspector or his duly appointed representative.

It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to make connections from a source of electrical energy or to supply electric service to any electric wiring, devices, appliances or equipment which has been disconnected or ordered to be disconnected by the Chief Building Inspector or his duly appointed representative or the use of which has been ordered by the Chief Building Inspector or his duly authorized representative to be discontinued until approval has been given by him authorizing the reconnection and use of such wiring, devices, appliances or equipment. The Chief Building Inspector or his duly appointed representative shall notify the serving utility of such order to discontinue use."

c. Deletions.

1. Subsection 250-82(c).
2. Subsection 250-82(d).

Section 3. ENFORCEMENT: APPEALS

Wherever in Article 2 (Enforcement: Appeals), Chapter 6 (National Electrical Code), Title II (Zoning and Development), the Title "Director of Public Works," or "City Engineer" is used, the title "Director of Housing and Community Development" or "Department of Housing and Community Development, Building Inspection Division" shall be substituted where appropriate. The term "Director of Housing and Community Development" shall include duly appointed representatives.

Section 4. PENALTIES.

a. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of the codes hereby adopted or fail to comply therewith, or who shall violate or fail to comply with any order made thereunder, or who shall build in violation of any detailed statement of specifications or plans submitted and approved thereunder, or any certificate or permit issued thereunder, and from which no appeal has been taken, or who shall fail to comply with such an order as affirmed or modified by the Board of Appeals or by a court of competent jurisdiction, within the time fixed herein, shall severally for each and every such violation and noncompliance respectively, be guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not to exceed $500.00 or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of time not to exceed six (6) months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. The imposition of one penalty for any violation shall not excuse the violation or permit it to continue; and all such persons shall be required to correct or remedy such violations or defects within a reasonable time; and when not otherwise specified, each ten days that prohibited conditions are maintained shall constitute a separate offense.

b. The application of the above penalty shall not be held to prevent the enforced removal of prohibited conditions.

Section 5. REPEAL OF CONFLICTING ORDINANCES.

The provisions contained in Ordinances 441, 524, 525, 616, 618, 619, and 645 are hereby repealed as are the provisions of all other former ordinances or parts thereof conflicting or inconsistent with the provisions of this ordinance or of the Codes hereby adopted.

Section 6. VALIDITY.

The City Council hereby declares that should any section, paragraph, sentence, or word of this ordinance or of this ordinance or of the Codes hereby adopted be declared for any reason to be invalid, it is the intent of the City of Pleasanton that it would have passed all other portions of this ordinance independent of the elimination herefrom of any such portion as may be declared invalid.

Section 7. DATE OF EFFECT.

This Ordinance shall be published once in "THE TIMES," a newspaper of general circulation published in the City of Pleasanton, and shall be in force on the thirtieth day after adoption.

NO OTHER WAGON GOT BETTER EPA GAS MILEAGE THAN AMERICA'S LOWEST PRICED WAGON.

According to a comparison of Manufacturers' Suggested Retail Prices, the 1975 Vega Wagon is the lowest priced wagon built in America.

According to California figures reported in the EPA Buyers' Guide, the 1975 Vega Wagon with an available 140-cubic-inch 2-barrel engine achieved 28 mpg in the highway driving test, and 18 mpg in the city driving test. No American-built wagon tested got better gasoline mileage.

Isn't it nice to know you can get the lowest priced wagon and unsurpassed EPA wagon mileage in the same car?
